

Press Release

January 12, 2018

Long Beach, CA

We are pleased to announce that as of today, January 12, 2018, Quik Pick Express has purchased Overweight Container Logistics Co and made them part of our ever growing company.

Quik Pick Express was founded in 1988 as a courier delivery service. The Company quickly added logistics support in the form of harbor drayage, warehousing and trucking to its services and has grown dramatically each year.

Quik Pick Express currently serves the Ports of Los Angeles, Long Beach and Oakland with 8 warehouse locations and almost 100 trucks. Quik Pick also specializes in overweight container drayage in Southern California.

Overweight Container Logistics was founded in 2005 by Doug Reber to specifically handle overweight containers for its customers, serving the Ports of Los Angeles and Long Beach. Since that time, OCL has had a reputation for excellent customer service at competitive rates.

Both Companies are located on the heavy weight corridor in southern California.

Quik Pick Express plans to operate OCL as a separate division of the company and retain the company name.
